A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Brian Green
President

There's nothing like the buzz of walking into the Myrtle Beach Convention Center for our Conference and Trade Show each November. It's something I've been doing for more than 20 years now but the feelings of anticipation and excitement remain fresh every year.

There's always something new to learn, something new to see and someone new to meet. The value for money also remains an industry standard and, while I don't want to jinx things, it seems like the weather always treats us well.

We're blessed to have some of the smartest people in their fields providing education, some of the most enjoyable courses for our golf championship and the absolute best industry partners filling our trade show floor. Put all that on top of catching up with so many friends and colleagues from across the industry and you have all the ingredients you need for the best week of our year.

But we take none of it for granted. Our Conference and Trade Show thrives only because of the support of people exactly like you, whether you are a golf course superintendent, company representative, educator, student or club leader. Every single thing that happens this week happens only because you are here and keep coming here year after year.

So, on behalf of the Carolinas GCSA board of directors, I welcome you and I thank you. It is a great time to be in the golf industry so don't be afraid to take a little pride in your role in that success this week. Just be mindful to never take that success - or this show - for granted. We all have people to thank for the privilege of being here. Let's do them proud by making this another Carolinas GCSA Conference and Show to remember.

Have a fantastic week.

Brian Green
President Carolinas GCSA

Distinguished Service Award 2026 Paul Jett, CGCS

When Paul Jett, CGCS walked out of his first Carolinas GCSA board meeting somewhere close to midnight back in January of 2002, he wondered whether service was such a good idea after all. The meeting started at "3 or 4 and was supposed to wrap up about 6 or 7 then we'd go to dinner," he recalls. "Well, 6 or 7 came and went and about 9 o'clock we ordered food in. I don't even remember what we talked about. But I do remember thinking, 'Oh, my God. What have I gotten myself into."

Elite company as it turns out.

This November 18, for exemplary service to his profession and his association, Jett will become just the 38th recipient of the Carolinas GCSA's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award. Much of that service came over his decade spent as a board member, a decade as significant as any in the history of the association.

The 2000s were anything but easy. Early in the decade, the tech bubble burst and terrorists attacked on September 11, 2001. Closer to home, the region endured crippling drought in middle part of the decade, and golf looked like losing access to water. Then in 2008 came the Great Recession, casting a cloud – or worse – over virtually every walk of life.

Against that backdrop, and despite of it, the Carolinas GCSA went from strength to strength. The association hired a professional lobbyist and led a new golf industry coalition that made a stamp in both Raleigh, NC and Columbia, SC. It fought off a potentially harmful new tax on golf, promoted the industry's economic impact and helped preserve the game's access to water.

Jett, along with a host of others – some of whom have also been honored with the DSA – played an integral role in all of it. As he did when, in 2008, the Carolinas GCSA became the first GCSAA affiliated chapter to own its own headquarters, a fully refurbished 2,200 sq. ft. building in Liberty, SC. He was even there before opening day helping unload furniture.

The following year, his year as president, the association launched an online auction of tee times to raise money for turfgrass research. That program has long since gone national, this year yielding a record $936,298.

"It's hard to believe that it's been 17 years since we launched Rounds 4 Research," says Jett, who drove, phoned and emailed his way across the Carolinas convincing peers to get on board. In that launch year, his year as president, he spoke - in person - at meetings of 11 of the then 12 local associations. In 2010, he helped instigate the Virlina Cup, an annual challenge match between the best golfers from the Carolinas GCSA and Virginia GCSA.

He did all that while holding down a day job - at Pinehurst No. 2 - where he hosted two U.S. Open Championships - in 1999 and 2005. Each year, he presented course conditions that served like a raw steak on the bruised eye of the USGA, on the back of course condition controversies at the Olympic Club in 1998 and Shinnecock in 2004. Payne Stewart, who won in 1999 as the only player in red figures at 1 under par, said No. 2's conditioning was "perfect."

Jett would also host the 2008 U.S. Amateur Championship at No. 2. It would not be his only closeup experience with national amateur golf. The next time around, he was actually in the field.

As a superintendent, he twice won the Carolinas GCSA championship and finished runner-up in GCSAA's national championship four times. But it wasn't until switching to a sales role with what is now Triangle Turf and Ornamental in 2010 that he was eventually able to devote real time to his game.

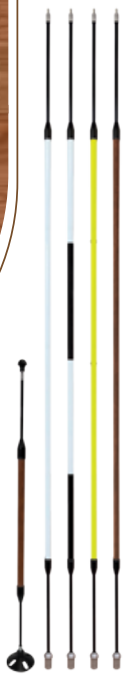

In 2019, he not only qualified for the U.S. Senior Amateur he made it to the quarter finals. The 2020 championship was canceled because of the pandemic but the following year he made it to the round of 32.

Jett says little if any of it would have come without the help of others including family, friends and industry colleagues. "I have had a lot of great people who have worked for me and with me," he says. "And they should all take a little piece of this award with them because there are a lot of other people who played a role in this."

TURF BOWL PARTICIPANT LUNCH

1 pm
Ballroom E

The Carolinas GCSA is proud to offer lunch for all the Turf Bowl participants. Presented in partnership with Quail Hollow Club at this year's conference and show!

Lunch will be served promptly at 1 p.m. on Tuesday in Ballroom E for all participating students and their mentors!

Carter Jones, Business Operations Manager – Agronomy at Quail Hollow Club in Charlotte, NC will give a short 5-minute PowerPoint presentation on choosing an internship along with a recruiting video. Carter will also share a short PowerPoint presentation on what Quail has to offer and how to apply for internships. Each participant and their advisor will be given a small gift for attending.

After the lunch is over, students will head over to Ballroom D for the increasingly popular Student Turf Bowl. The winning team will be sent to New Orleans to compete in the National Turf Bowl at GCSAA's Conference and Show in January.

FELLOWSHIP BREAKFAST SPEAKER

Press McPhaul

For more than a quarter-century as a college golf coach, Press McPhaul was a major figure in the lives of young men through some of their most formative years. Behind the scenes he also helped guide other coaches, as director of coaches ministry for Christian Golf Fellowship. A non-denominational Christian ministry, Christian Golf Fellowship launched in 2002 and now has about three dozen staff across the country.

A native of Sanford, NC, McPhaul retired last year after eight seasons at North Carolina State. His tenure was a fitting bookend to a college golf career that began in 1991 as part of the Wolfpack team. He participated in three NCAA Championships - 1993, 1995, 1996 - and was co-captain of the 1995-96 squad.

He later served as assistant coach before landing his first head coaching role at Vanderbilt. Before returning to Raleigh in 2017, he led Eastern Carolina for 11 years. For all the victories over that period and all the players who went on to the PGA TOUR, McPhaul operated with a broader mission.

As Christian Golf Fellowship spells out, college athletes can be "spiritually vulnerable...away from home, making their own decisions, establishing their own world-view, and experimenting with all that college life has to offer. They are bombarded with questions about life, faith, truth, purpose, philosophy, relationships, identity, morality, and spirituality.a group of people."

McPhaul will share lessons from that experience and from his faith at this year's Fellowship Breakfast, presented in partnership with NewLife Turf and Corbin Turf and Ornamental Supply on November 18.

They will have giveaways and fact sheets available as well.

BADGE PRINTING FOR ATTENDEES AND EXHIBITORS WILL BE AVAILABLE ONSITE AT SELF SERVICE KIOSK

This year we will utilize an electronic badge printing system. Everyone pre-registered for Conference and Show, exhibitors and attendees, will receive a unique QR code via email which they will scan on-site to print their badge. A search by last name, first name is also available.

AVOID LINES – PRINT YOUR BADGE EARLY!!
Stop by the Sheraton before early morning lines!

Attendees at the host hotel, the Sheraton MBCC Hotel, adjacent to the convention center, will have the chance to print their badges in the hotel foyer when they check in beginning on Sunday, November 15, from 2-7 pm. We will have scanners and printers set up near the internet café on the lobby level of the hotel. Have your QR code for badge printing readily available. Our team will be onsite during normal registration hours for any onsite questions.

We will also have a badge printing kiosk set up near the loading dock in Exhibit Hall A for exhibitors to print their badge. The location will be near the Carolina Tradeshow Decorators (CTD) service desk.

BADGES PRINT ONLY ONE TIME. THERE WILL BE A FEE TO REPRINT ANY BADGES

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

COMPLIMENTARY PARKING
MYRTLE BEACH CONVENTION CENTER

The Carolinas GCSA has partnered this year with Carolina Fresh Farms, Envu, Freylit USA, GuruScapes, Molasses King, Nufarm, PBI/Gordon Corp, N-Vizion Products Group, Inc., and Regal Chemical to provide complimentary parking in the lot behind the Myrtle Beach Convention Center for the duration of the Carolinas GCSA Conference and Show. As many of you know, several years ago the City of Myrtle Beach implemented a charge per day per vehicle. We are proud and grateful, thanks to the support of our industry partners, that we can once again help attendees avoid this charge. It may not be a lot of money, but it is just another way we strive to make your Conference and Show experience as smooth and affordable as possible. If you get the chance, please say thanks to those companies for taking the parking tab off your bill.

RECOMMENDED DRESS

The Carolinas GCSA requests members and guests, for all Conference and Show events, observe a golf casual or business casual dress standard.

- Golf casual is defined as clean slacks and a collared or mock neck golf shirt.
- Business casual is defined as clean slacks with a collared or mock neck shirt and a blazer or sport coat.
- To put your best professional foot forward, please refrain from wearing denim and golf caps during any event at Conference and Show.

NO SUITCASING POLICY

The Carolinas GCSA implements a "no suitcasing" policy during Conference and Show. This means no individual (attendee or exhibitor) is allowed to solicit business in the aisles of the trade show, in restrooms, back parking lot or any other public spaces of the Myrtle Beach Convention Center. Flyers or cards left on vehicles and in restrooms are in direct violation of this policy.

Out of respect for exhibitors who pay to support your association, please report any violation to Tim Kreger, Executive Director at 864-616-2910 or tkreger@cgcsa.org.

CONFERENCE & SHOW E-NEWSLETTER

All attendees and exhibitors will receive three editions of the Conference and Show E-Newsletter. It will sent out daily each morning starting on Tuesday, November 17. This newsletter is made possible through the partnership with Divots, Inc., Links Bridges, and Watertronics.
